FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Rosewood Family Health Hires New Clinic Director

Angela Wright looks forward to helping provide community-centered care

PORTLAND – Rosewood Family Health welcomes Angela Wright as the new Clinic Director.

Wright has extensive healthcare management experience working for health care organizations such as Oregon Health Science University (OHSU), Kaiser Permanente, and as Senior Clinic Manager for Multnomah County Health Department and State Health Refugee Clinic. "I'm passionate about providing equitable healthcare and making sustainable changes in the Rosewood community," Wright stated.

Wright led a vaccine equity effort for OHSU, working with diverse populations to empower and build trust within communities of color to seek accessible, equitable, and inclusive healthcare. "Using my privilege as a Black female leader to help historically marginalized communities seek healthcare is empowering. I'm helping underserved communities learn how to trust our healthcare systems when they have historically failed us." Wright stated.

Wright feels connected with the Rosewood community and is eager to impact those living in the area. "The people and patients of this neighborhood inspired me to take this position. I look forward to having real conversations about what is needed and missing from the healthcare community." Wright stated.

In 2023, Wright will be managing a new 35,437 square foot multi-disciplinary health center, "I look forward to the new clinic opening, where patients can get high quality medical care, stop in for a dental cleaning, and pick up their prescriptions on the way home," Wright stated.

*Yakima Valley Farm Workers Clinic is one of the Pacific Northwest's largest community health centers, providing medical, dental, behavioral health and social services to more than 191,000 people a year. With more than 60 unique service locations across Oregon (Clatsop, Marion, Multnomah, Umatilla, and Yamhill counties) and Washington (Benton, Franklin, Spokane, Whitman, Walla Walla, and Yakima counties), we deliver affordable, comprehensive primary care for underserved populations in our communities. We also extend our network of care through our mobile health units and virtual visit technology, bringing essential care to our more remote patients. Yakima Valley Farm Workers Clinic employs over 1,600 staff in addition to our medical and dental residents, administrative fellows, students, and volunteers. All of whom are dedicated to bringing quality care to those in our communities who need it most. Yakima Valley Farm Workers Clinic is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization recognized by HRSA, The Joint Commission, and The National Committee for Quality Assurance for our accomplishments in community health care.
