

Resident Recruitment Selection and Qualification

Scope

All Yakima Valley Farm Workers Clinic (YVFWC) employed graduate medical education residents.

Purpose

Maintain written policies on the recruitment of residents as per the Institutional Requirements set forth by the Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education (ACGME).

Key Concepts and Terms

The Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education (ACGME) is the body responsible for accrediting the majority of graduate medical training programs (i.e., internships, residencies, and fellowships, aka subspecialty residencies) for physicians in the United States. A non-profit private council evaluates and accredits medical residency and internship programs.

Graduate Medical Education (GME) refers to any type of formal medical education, pursued after receipt of the M.D. or D.O. degree in the United States This education includes internship, residency, subspecialty and fellowship programs, and leads to state licensure and board certification.

A Resident is a physician who is engaged in a graduate medical education-training program, and who participates in patient care under the direction of attending physicians and faculty. PGY-1 is a first-year resident (post-graduate year 1), PGY-2 is a second-year resident (post-graduate year 2), etc.

Policy

A| General Recruitment/Selection

- 1| YVFWC shall not discriminate in its recruitment, advertising, employment, selection for training and career advancement, demotion, reassignment or transfer, disciplinary actions, layoff or termination, rates of pay or other forms of compensation and other personnel practices and procedures against any applicant for employment, or against any employee because of race, creed, color, national origin, sex, age, marital status, sexual orientation, or physical, mental, or sensory disability in accordance with state and federal regulations.
 - a| It is not YVFWC's intent to lower employment standards, or hire individuals incapable of performing the essential functions of a job.
- 2| Hiring is in accordance with the availability of budget ACGME-approved positions, and is done only for authorized, posted vacancies.
- 3| The Yakima Valley Farm Workers Clinic shall select from among eligible applicants based on their preparedness, ability, aptitude, academic credentials, communication skills, and personal qualities, such as motivation and integrity.
 - a| The Yakima Valley Farm Workers Clinic will not discriminate with regard to gender, sexual orientation, race, age, religion, color, national origin, disability, veteran status, or any other applicable legally protected status.
